Excerpt: .where children are constantly leaviug their seats to consult a Dictionary. They should be provided with a smaller work as a hand-book, to be consulted as occasion may require. In support of this opinion we quote the following extract from the Annual Report of the School Committee of Boston for 1851: Instances of mispronunciation also occurred; and, on calling for a Dictionary, none was at hand. A fine edition of Webster s large work lay on the master s table in another story, but, for all practical uses, where it was then wanted, it might as well have been in Texas. It is recommended that all the teachers be required to have Dictionaries in their several rooms. It is also proposed that all the younger upils be required to have Worcester s Primary Dictionary, and the more a vanced pupils his Comprehensive Pronouncing and...
